

Jiban Bikash Karjocrom (JBK)

Jiban Bikash Karjocrom (JBK) was established in 1999 as a non-profit, and voluntary research organization registered under the Directorate of Social Service, People Republic of Bangladesh. Since its inception, the organization dedicated itself to work for environmental sustainability and conservation approach having with special focus on invertebrates fauna baseline preparation and conservation as well as awareness creation for the country people.

The organization also have keen interest to work on pollination group and food for security and able to implement few initiatives with the farmers to raise agricultural productivity and ensure food security by providing knowledge of modern technology.

JBK further also expanded its work area by initiating various capacity building programme on climate change adaptation and mitigation issues.